ALTA LANGA DOCG
“Sivà” 2019 RISERVA

The 2019 vintage was marked by extreme weather conditions: on the one hand, long periods of extreme summer heat with heat waves, and on the other, extraordinary rainfall that helped keep water available for the vines even during the dry period. Worthy of note is the event that most changed the game for the vintage, namely the almost 100mm of rain that fell on July 15, 2019. The Chardonnay harvest was still carried out at the end of August. Despite this, the result is a well-balanced product

Municipality: Sinio
Surface area: 0,5 ha
Year of planting: 1997
Exposure: West
Grape variety: 100% Chardonnay
Alcol: 13%
Dosage: Brut con 6 g/L
Vine density: 4500 vines/ha
Harvest type: manual
Soil characteristics: Clayey-calcareous marls with good presence of sand and sandstones of Langa that originate an evolved loamy-sandy soil
Vinification: direct pressign of grapes and low temperature fermentation (16 °C).
Yeast tipe: selected both for 1st and 2nd fermentation
Elevage: Refermentation in bottles (champenoise method) at 15°C and surlies elevage per 60 months.
Production: 850 bottles e 34 magnum
Format: 0,75L - 1,5L

ALTA LANGA DOCG
“SIVÀ” 2019 RISERVA

Color: clear, intense straw yellow with golden reflections. The perlage is very fine, quite persistent with numerous bubbles, consistent in appearance.
Aroma: intense and complex, fruity with ripe apple, pineapple, and citrus, herbaceous, bread crust, balsamic and resin notes.
Taste: Dry, fairly warm on entry and quite smooth in the mouth. The fruity apple and warm pineapple sensations are interesting. A hint of almond. The minerality is very present along with freshness and acidity. Classic method, smooth, enveloping but also structured. Savory, full-bodied, balanced, and intense. Persistent, fine, ready, harmonious.
Food pairings: It can be served both as an aperitif and to accompany toasts on special occasions. Serve at 8-10°C.

RISERVA
SIVÀ
METODO CLASSICO
ALTA LANGA